WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22 .-The flexible tariff provision, under which the president can proclaim Tariff Commission, was adopted as claimed it would give the president uper-logrolling power. That claim seems measurably justified by Mr. Roosevelt's order to raise duties on Japanese cotton.

His action violates the administration policy of reciprocal tariff agreements designed to stimulate world trade, but it is certainly calculated to stimulate the Democratic vote in New England. To Huntingdon For Vandalism

CLUB PRESIDENT SENT TO WORKS

Several Drunken Drivers Are Assessed Fines And Given Jail Sentences

Mystery of how Edward Roberts, 19 years old and weighing 130 pounds, could topple over tombstones weighing several tons in Greenwood cemetery, remained unexplained at Lawrence county court this morning when Roberts was sentenced to Huntingdon Reform School. Both Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham were skeptical that Roberts could have done the work himself, especially after Attorney H. A. Wilkison told the court that he had visited the cemetery and viewed the wreckage. There were several of the monuments which Attorney Wilkison thought that it would have been impossible for Roberts to have turned over himself.

because of his emotional outbursts, Fay Webb Vallee, pictured as she testified in court at Los Angeles, won a divorce from the radio crooner, Vandalism Scored Judge Chambers characterized the overturning of 83 tombstones as the worst piece of vandalism he had ever known in the county. Roberts was questioned closely but stuck doggedly to the story that he had overturned the tombstones

He said that he had drank several bottles of beer before going to the cemetery. Judge Chambers asked him if he always wanted to overturn tombstones after he had drank beer. He replied that it seemed to affect him that way.

Attorney Wilkinson described some of the monuments that were overturned, particularly as to how they were setting on their bases. He had also looked the monuments over for evidence of chisels or wires, but had found none. However he did not see how it was humanly possible for Roberts to have overturned them without assistance.

Other Sentences Oscar Wukovich, who pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of 30 days from date.

Art Mosby, who pleaded guilty to stealing some clothing from Frank Hailey, was sentenced three months to the county jail. A. F. Rodgers, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, stated that he had taken several drinks after a hard day's work. I am supplying the public with quality merchandise at very modest prices and a complete funeral at a price any family can afford. I have modern equipment, the most completely equipped embalming room in the city, and render service regardless of price, of funeral that is equalled by very few directors. I operate a sanitary ambulance. When your doctor suggests an ambulance you should insist on Burke as you will receive the best at the lowest cost. Doctors are requested to inspect my ambulance anytime. And I have been the target in more than one ad written by others. You have read them. However, the public are placing their faith in the Darrell Burke Funeral Home. My rapid increase in business shows that, and why not? I answer any question truthfully asked me by those I serve, and guarantee every funeral to be as represented. You get full value as I do not pay agents. Any time a funeral director other than Darrell Burke is suggested think before consenting. If you call me and after removing and embalming the body, I do not have or cannot get at once what you want or you think you can do better anywhere else, I will make no charge for what I have done, and will deliver the body to any undertaker chosen free. Hospital—Three Held By Police In Case

Three men, among them a father and son, today were held on a charge of suspicion by city police in connection with the stabbing of John Othites, youth, of 18 East Reynolds street, in front of the Faella cafe, Oregon, 1217 South Mill street, at 12:10 a. m. today. The men held are John Shaughnessy, 58, and his son, William, 30 both of 1108 Agnew street and Harry Watkins, 42, of 1015 South | Clifford Fiscus Funeral. Mill street.

According to police reports the Shaughnessys and Watkins were at a table in the cafe and Othites was playing a marble machine. The police claim they learned remarks were made by the men about Othites. This led to an argument. Henry Faella, proprietor of the place, put them out and a fight started, during which the young man was stabbed with a knife.

George Terzian, 426 Division street, and Louis Sica, 1009 Pollock avenue, took Athites to the New Castle hospital. Othites was stabbed in the back and neck. He underwent an immediate operation. Lieutenant Elder, Detective John Young and Paatrolmen Hillers and Dukes arrested the Shaughnessys and Watkins later at the cafe and also found the knife alleged to have been used. All of the men arrested denied using the knife. The Shaughnessys showed the effects of the fight, each having swollen black eyes.

We will also entertain a veteran of the Civil War, Mr. Edwin Ayers, a former sheriff of the county. In sending out invitations for this meeting, we were informed that there were only four veterans in the county. When we first initiated the had as many as sixty men. This year our meeting will be honored with but one veteran, the other three men being unable to attend. President Harold attended the As Scout Executive Grove City meeting and reports a fine meeting. SCHOOL CLOSING EVENTS

TT IS A great day for parents, when their Tommy or Mary is hundred thousand millions in penperched up on some platform at a school or college, to read an essay, "speak a piece," or go through the motions of a graduating event. Even if the class is only finishing the work of some neighborhood school or grammar grade, it is the most notable event of that child's life so far, and the parent's heart almost bursts with pride.

"Examination day" in the old-time district school was once Germany. After midnight, the giant, a grand event. It was a breathless moment when the black City and its eight million people, coated school committee entered the room, which was filled with a hushed gathering of anxious pupils and admiring parents. The simple songs and recitations seemed to constitute in those times a marvelous display of learning and skill. When the chairman of the school board rose for his annual speech, it was like Demosthenes addressing his ancient Greek audience.

Today when the youngster graduates from a school or college, it is always a momentous event. The child has climbed a long hill, and is about to enter a new road of unknown experi-

U. S. WANTS NONE OF IT

In an impassioned speech to the British House of Commons Lord Dickinson this week affirmed his belief that "the moment has arisen when it might be possible to induce the American people to reconsider their attitude toward the League of Nations and to accept their share of responsibility in international life.'

One does not like to disillusion this British statesman, but his esti- inch of the petticoat showed all mate of current American moods and intentions is all wrong. The average citizen over here is less than ever persuaded that his government has any moral duty to join the league or any of its annexes. If there was ever any mass wavering on that score it was terminated when Europe repudiated its war debts and the League of Nations gave evidence that their only interest in the Versailles covenant was to collect their preferred share of World War spoils.

Indeed, there has been so much quarreling over the terms of this distribution that some of the aggrieved nations have retired to set up wars and spoils agencies of their own, with another free-for-all conflict in prospect as the result of their want of harmony.

Uncle Sam is too wise to want a share in that war, which is what he would be certain to get if he were to apply for a seat in the decrepit

Cast Of 400 In Franklin Revue

Colorful Gym Show, Rehearsed To Perfection, Ready For Public

PERFORMANCE ON NIGHT OF MAY 27

Over 400 Ben Franklin junior high school girls, drilled to rhythmic perfection in rehearsals of the past few weeks, will step out on the broad Franklin stage to present for the public's benefit a spectacular gym exhibition, a la revue style, on Wednesday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock. It will be the show of shows for Franklin, certainly the most colorful of productions to be offered by a school cast in many months. Drawn entirely from the girls' gymnasium classes by the school's health education director, Miss Margaret P. Fischer, the participants have been expertly coached for the dances, flashlight drills, Irish dances and other acts. From the very first of the 10 lively numbers, a figure marching drill in which more than 100 of the girls appear, the program swiftly unfolds one snappy exhibition after another. There'll be no lull-not for nearly two hours.

Miss Fischer is directing the revue, as the school bulletins advertise it, and assisting are Miss Mary McBride, handling the elaborate art work; Miss Margaret H. Shaffer and Miss Ann Shifman, the costume work, and Miss Shifman, the tickets,

ALLEGE CULT TRIED TO CONTROL ELECTION

(International News Service) DETROIT. May 23.-Disclosures that hooded nightriders of the "Black Legion" have been terrorizing parts of Michigan for a year, even attempting to seize control of one city government, came today on the heels of the arrest of 16 of the black legionnaires in connection with the murder of Charles A. Poole

Roving bands of the night-raiders who executed Poole, a former WPA worker, on an apparently spurious charge Poole beat his wife, also were accused by Police Inspector John I. Navarre of conducting several horse-whipping "parties" here, while the "Black Legion" itslf divided the city up into "zones".

The murder also brought charges the black-robed cult in Pontiac tried to dominate the Pontiac city elections 14 months ago, threatened dent. Republican leaders were at three political candidates there with first skeptical of the ability of so death, kidnaped a former member young a woman as campaign of the band, handcuffed him to a tree and threatened to kill him.

The Pontiac charges were based on revelations by Arthur P. Bogue, public prosecutor there at the time of the kidnaping. It was also recalled that charges were once publicly made that some members of the "Black Legion" were also officers of the Pontiac police department and tried to oust former police chief George Eckhardt. The latter was found not guilty of charges he said were "trumped up" by the secret organization.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Inflation Seems To Be Dead Issue

Surprising Vote Against Frazier-Lemke Measure In House Convincing

STILL REMAINS CAMPAIGN ISSUE

> Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, May 23 .- If congressmen read the country's wishes aright, a large majority of the American people have had all the currency inflation they want.

To be sure, it was not expected that the inflationary Frazier-Lemke bill would become law at this session of the national legislature.

However, even its foes thought that it might get through the house of representatives. Many representatives have a habit of voting for measures that personally they don't like, depending on the senate to beat them. All hands were confident that the senate would turn thumbs down on that bill. But if, by any chance, the senate did pass it, it was well known that it would be vetoed by President Roosevelt, and no inflationist was so optimistic as to predict that his veto, on that subject could be overridden.

SNOWED UNDER

Anyway, inflationists felt sure, and anti-inflationists admitted, that the Frazier-Lemke plan would be defeated in the lower house, if at all, by a very narrow margin.

Instead of which it was snowed under 235 to 142. The inflationary leaders' idea now is to campaign against the "antis" and beat so many of them next No-

But if the 235 correctly assessed sentiment in their respective bailiwicks (and politicians are pretty accurate folk at this sort of calculations) maybe they can't be beaten. Contrariwise, maybe they will make inroads against the 142, and the Seventy-fifth congress will be more anti-inflationary than this one.
